Park City, Utah – The National Ability Center invites you to its annual free Community Open House and Adaptive Cycling Expo on Saturday, July, 19th, 2008 at the National Ability Center from 10:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

This year, the community is invited to come and give thanks to former CEO and co-founder Meeche White for her 23 years of dedication to helping individuals with disabilities to have opportunities do discover their abilities. Visitors will also have the chance to meet new CEO, Dale Schoon.

This event gives the National Ability Center a small way to say thank you for all the continuous support the community has shown the organization. Kids can ride ponies, jump around in the bounce house and play carnival games. The climbing wall will be open, and families can test their skills on our ropes course. After trying the different activities, there will also be a free BBQ and Ben & Jerry's ice cream!

Teamed with the Open House, the Fifth Annual Adaptive Cycling Expo lets people of all abilities and skills to try out adaptive cycles from different vendors. Riders can also join the cycling staff for group rides and skill clinics.

The National Ability Center is committed to the development of lifetime skills for people of all ages and abilities by providing affordable sports and recreational experiences in a nurturing environment. The objective of these experiences is to build self-esteem, confidence and physical development, thereby enhancing active participation in all aspects of community life.

For more information about the Community Open House or the Adaptive Cycling Expo, please contact Ryan Jensen at 435-200-0990 or e-mail him at ryanj@DiscoverNAC.org.
