I am Possibilities
I am Community
As the National Ability Center reflects on yet another extraordinary year, I am continually inspired by the transformative power of the mind to create change. Our incredible growth would not be possible without the tireless commitment of thousands of caring individuals who create the possibility of transformation every day. The investment of time, talents and resources to our mission from so many creates a direct and immediate impact in the lives of people of all abilities.

Our story began three decades ago with a simple idea: to view all people through a lens of ability instead of limitation. When this occurs, the results are extraordinary; not just for individuals with different abilities but for entire families and communities.

This includes families like the Quinn’s: “Thank you so much for creating such an amazing experience for Taylor and our entire family! For most of his life, Taylor has been delegated to the sidelines. At the National Ability Center, you focus on Taylor’s abilities and through that he feels ready for any challenge ahead. We are so grateful to the entire team at the National Ability Center for making it possible for Taylor to achieve important milestones throughout his life. We are even more thrilled to be able participate in many of these great moments with him! Thank you so much for all you do to make the world a better place, giving illumination and hope to so many who fight life’s difficult battles.”
– Cyd and Steve Quinn

Here at the National Ability Center, we create the “playing field for change” – helping people of all abilities and their families to look past daily challenges and create a new life narrative – one of hope, inclusion and resilience. We are honored to play a role in these achievements.

In 2016, the National Ability Center served 5,400 individuals of all abilities through more than 30,000 activities and experiences. This represents growth of more than 30% in a single year; which equates to even more children, veterans and families who were served by our programs. Continued growth like this is simply not possible without the unwavering commitment of our dedicated and growing community. And you play an integral role in this community. It is because of your support that individuals of all abilities are empowered to leave the sidelines and discover a world of new possibilities. We look forward to writing the next chapter of our remarkable story with your help. Together, we can be a force for the change we want to see in the world and create a global impact for people of all abilities.

Sincerely,

Gail Loveland, Executive Director (2010-present)
